UNEMPLOYMENT CONFERENCE

TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

Washington, Oct. 6.—The national conference on unemployment will convene next Tuesday instead of Monday as previously announced. Secretary Hoover said today. Committees will meet on Monday, he added, and it is hoped that several of them will have completed their recommendations on permanent measures for combating unemployment and revising business and commerce.

Deliberations of the manufacturers' committee were continued today, but the

What Is Going On Tonight.

Purinton Temple, No. 2, Psychian Sisters, meet at 833 Main Street.

Noe Delude of No. 98 Main Street, is wondering whether he and his wife have been kidnapped out of $49 or not.

Wednesday evening, Mrs. Delude passed $49 over to a stranger for what was said to be a warranty deed for a tract of land of the Forest View Realty Company, at Agawam, Mass.

The scheme worked by the real estate men in this city was simple. They went around among the houses at the lower end of the city and over the river, stating to housewives that their company had land for sale and also giving opportunities for a drawing. Last Wednesday, they returned and told several women that they had been lucky and had drawn a building lot. Warranty deeds were presented and the women were asked to deposit a nominal sum to cover expenses of the lawyer of the lot. The company would also sell the property if the deed was desired. This payment idea looked strange to many, most of whom did not care about owning property out of this state, but Mrs. Delude paid her man the sum of $49 and received a receipt which upon more careful examination showed no signatures drawn through it and bore some printing.

The police were notified of the swindle and Delude gave the names of the swindlers, which according to the names on the warranty deed were A. J. Melvitch and Joseph A. Callaway. A search of hotel registers disclosed that both men had registered at the Hotel Hooker Tuesday but had not returned Wednesday. Mr. Delude waited until the two hours Thursday morning but neither man put in an appearance.

Thursday morning, Delude took the warranty deed to local lawyers after deciding that it was best not to send money to the Hampden county registry office of deeds to cover the costs of making the deed.

The lawyers advised him that the case needed investigation and Delude had better first find out who he really had bought. According to the address Callaway gave, Delude, the former's address is General Agent, Room No. 121, Springfield, Mass.

The body of Sergeant Harold L. Mor-rissy, another Willimantic boy who paid the supreme sacrifice in France has arrived at Hoken, N. J., and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick F. Morrissy of Jackson Street, have been notified to that effect by the war department.

The body is to be sent to this city immediately by military funeral is planned. Sergeant Morrissy was but 19 when he enlisted, being one of the youngest men to leave this city. He was born here March 12, 1902. He was graduated from St. Joseph's school and was a student at Windham High school when he and his chum, James Schley Donahue, enlisted in the old Company L, First Connecticut Infantry, March 29, 1917, when the call for volunteers was issued. For some weeks after enlistment he was in training duty in Connecticut and later he went to Camp Dimock, South Coventry, and then to Pratt Field, New Haven, where the company was transferred with two others of the National Guard regiments to the 102nd Infantry, Twenty-sixth Division.
Sergeant Morrissy served with distinction, having been active in the Argonne drive, Oct. 25, 1918. At that time he was first sergeant and was leading his men over the top when he was wounded in the arm. In another attack he was killed. He was buried in statements of members of Company L, one of the best soldiers in the company. He was "gone west." Sergeant Mor-rissy and his friend, James Donahue, were considered among the best in the company.
